

Example on how to link Capabilities to Microservices

- A business capability is an abstraction that captures the essence of “What” business does and can do.
- A Business Value Stream (or next level Process) is a end-end-activity from a stakeholder perspective
- A Microservice is a modular service that achieves a specific business outcome by orchestrating Value Streams and realizing Capabilities